Board of Regents Approve Science, Library Plans

Approval of preliminary architectural plans for construction of $6 million in library and science buildings at West Texas State University was given Wednesday by its Board of Regents.

In a special meeting on campus, the regents approved contracts with Hellmuth, Obata and Kassabaum, Inc., of St. Louis to design the science building and Wood and Associates, Inc., of Dallas to design the library.

With preliminary plans decided, the architects can proceed with final plans and specifications. Each of the projects will be funded by issuance of $2.5 million in building use bonds and $500,000 from constitutional amendment funds on hand.

Occupancy is expected in late 1973, said Virgil Henson, financial vice president.

President James P. Cornete made a report to the board on the progress of the Evaluation of Academic Educational Experiences.

He reported that the faculty evaluation of academic courses was completed Dec. 10 and stated that a further report would be made to the board at its next meeting.

Dr. Cornette said that this was probably the first time that such a study has been undertaken on this scale at the university level.

Dr. Irby Carruth, member of the board, made the suggestion that the board make available time at every meeting of the board for president's report on the status of the university.

"We meet and talk about money all the time. I am interested in what is going on in this institution from a educational standpoint," Dr. Carruth said. Gene Quest concurred with Dr. Carruth's suggestion saying, "I think this might be one area we might be falling down on."

In other action the board approved the distribution of the building use fee for the academic year 1971-72 and accepted a bid of $3,610.82 from Witt-Edwards Motor Company in Dumas for the purchase of a Pontiac Catalina for the Opportunity Plan.

The proposed three-story science building will be approximately 190 feet long and 190 feet wide and will have 110,000 square feet of floor space.

It will be located on the site of the university-owned residence of President James P. Cornette. The regents accepted a high bid of $8,000 by Wesley Cox of Canyon for purchase of the two-story, brick veneer house.

The science building, whose main entrance will be on the west side facing the central part of the campus, will house the departments of chemistry and physics on the first floor, geology and biology on the second floor and other biology rooms on the top floor.

Other important features include three auditorium-type lecture rooms, two of 100-seat capacity and one with 250 seats.

The new library will be two stories tall and have an unfinished basement. The second story will be stressed for a third floor when needed at a later date.

The building will be approximately 190 by 220 feet with 110,000 square feet of floor space.

"The basement will be the first addition completed and we anticipate it might be needed by 1979," Henson said. "We do not expect a third floor to be necessary before 1990.

"That addition will take care of an enrollment of 21,000 students. We are building plenty of library at this time."

Earlier this year the university received a number of valuable wall screen paintings by the famous Japanese artist Tenkei Tachibana. The delicate paintings are on display in the art gallery of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum on campus.

To aid in the preservation of the paintings, the regents authorized the museum to proceed with installation of a humidifier and approved an apparent low bid of $2,432 by Quality Sheet Metal Co. of Amarillo for the Mayor Manly Bryan received word late Wednesday from the Texas Highway Commission that a decision on a by-pass route for I-27 would not be made for another 30 to 60 days.

Bryan and several city commissioners appeared before the highway commission in Austin in early December to request a western route around the city, rather than an eastern route, recommended by the district highway office.

Choir On TV

Canyon High School choir will be featured on KGNC-TV from 4:15 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday and on radio the following Tuesday from 8:05 to 8:20 p.m.

According to choir director Tom Jennings, the choir will perform Christmas music during both shows.

RCJLA Meets

The Randall County Junior Livestock Association will meet tonight at the Vocational Agriculture Building at Canyon High School. An executive session is scheduled for 7 p.m. to be followed by a general meeting at 7:30.

Members will discuss a change in show dates to avoid conflict with the school schedule.

School's Out

Students at West Texas State University finish semester finals today, and Canyon public school students will complete the final day before Christmas holiday tomorrow.

WT students have taken finals all week, but Canyon schools will not have final exams for the fall semester until in January.

Public schools will dismiss classes at 2:30 p.m. Friday and will begin again at 8:30 a.m. Monday, Jan. 3, 1972.

WT spring semester will begin Jan. 17.

City Library Board Adopts New Rules

New rules and regulations for the Canyon library were adopted Monday afternoon at a regular meeting of the board.

In an effort to update the city library, board members studied library procedures for several months.

Regulations provide the library will be open a minimum of 20 hours weekly except during weeks with city holidays. The librarian or other staff member will be on duty during these hours and library hours will be posted in front of the building.

Borrowers must be residents of the city or of the Canyon Independent School district or they must pay a $2 deposit which will be refunded when the borrower no longer uses the library.

A child under 18 can borrow with the parent or guardian's signature, and all cards unused for three years will be discarded.

No family cards will be issued, according to the new rules, and each person will have their own card.

Only three volumes may be checked out at one time by one borrower and books may be checked out for two weeks.

A fine on overdue books is five cents per day and must be paid before a second book can be checked out. Lost and damaged books must be paid for at replacement value, the board agreed.

City manager George Loudder reported a $201.84 balance in the memorial gifts fund.

In other action the board accepted 25 books and two series of volumes as gifts to the library.

Mail Season Peak Nearing

Mail sacks are packed and postmen are slumped as Christmas season peak nears.

But according to postmaster Lee Roy Moreland, mailmen have not been deluged with mail at the last minute as is usual in past years. In fact, customers are sending cards and packages earlier this year, thus guaranteeing the mail will reach its destination before Dec. 25.

Moreland said all parcels should be mailed by 5:45 p.m. tomorrow if it is to arrive in time. And he won't guarantee that the packages will reach the destination by Christmas if they are to New York or the west coast. If mailed to a Texas town, the package will probably reach it if mailed before the weekend.

Moreland said he believes the amount of mail is down from several years ago, and attribute it to the increase in the amount of stamps.

"I can't tell for certain the amount of decrease from the stamp sales," he explained "because the cost of stamps have gone up in price."

But he appreciated customer cooperation in mailing early, and predicted that the early birds have helped ease the mailman's daily load.

Steve Moss places the final package in an already mammoth stack at the Canyon post office right before a daily load is sent out. Canyon mailers are sending out packages earlier this year and mail is arriving on time.

For Scabies

Cattle Are Quarantined

A cattle quarantine due to an outbreak of cattle scabies has been imposed on 34 Panhandle Counties including Randall County but no cases of the disease have been confirmed in Randall County.

Dr. Jack R. Pitcher of the Texas Animal Health Commission in Amarillo, said Wednesday that 10 cases have been confirmed in eight Panhandle counties.

These counties with confirmed cases are Childress, Collingsworth, Motley, Donley, Deaf Smith, Oldham, Moore and Dallam, according to Dr. Pitcher.

The Canyon Livestock Commission Company and the Randall County Feed Yard have reported no cases of scabies. Both have inspectors at the yards to inspect cattle when they arrive.

Bruce Lusk of the Randall County Feed Yard said that they had had some suspect cases but that when they were checked they were found to be clean.

The quarantine went into effect Dec. 11 and will continue until the problem is completely eradicated, according to Dr. Pitcher.

Dr. Pitcher said the commission had not yet determined the origin of the scabies outbreak.

The disease is caused by a mite and the cold and damp weather prevalent in this area has caused them to grow, according to John McNeill of the West Texas State University School of Agriculture.

McNeill said the outbreak was caused by the presence of the disease in a small number of cattle and it has spread through transportation.

Through Sunday the cattle have to be inspected by a state or federal inspector at the point of destination, McNeill said, and after Sunday the cattle must be inspected at the point of origin.

If the cattle are found to be clean, they can be transported but if one animal in the herd is found to be infected then the whole herd must be dipped in toxiphene twice under the supervision of a state

For Boy Scouts

"Be Prepared" Paid Off

Wet, tired, but successful.

That was the picture of six Boy Scouts from Canyon's Troop 66 Saturday night after a day-long canoe trip from the Dumas bridge to Lake Meredith, that ended in a nighttime search.

The boys were part of a group of 14 that left around 9:15 a.m. Saturday paddling six canoes along the shallow waterways.

Four of the canoes found their way to the meeting place just before dark, but the youngsters in two canoes realizing they were running late found a camping spot and put their scout training to use.

Denny Park, scout master, relates the story in this way.

"I had flown over the area to make sure there were no rapids, and that the water was not deep," he recalled Monday. "And I made maps of the landmarks so the boys would know where they were."

Park continued saying, "I told the boys where they should be at certain times, so they knew if they were running late."

Park estimated the boys could have made the trip by 3:15 p.m., but he doubted if they would be that speedy. And sure enough, the first boat appeared at 4:15 p.m.

"I climbed up to a hill and could see around 2½ miles and didn't see any of the canoes, so I took the canoe and went up the river," Park continued.

He found three more boats and brought them back. Then the search began for the other two canoes and occupants.

"I could see a fire and I had instructed the boys to build a fire if they didn't make it back before dark," he noted. "I thought I could get to them in the old bus, but we couldn't, so I called the park rangers and called the parents of the boys in the two canoes."

Rangers reached the stranded scouts and within 10 minutes all parents knew the boys were safe and well.

The six boys included assistant scout master Richard Fulton, Eagle Scout Tom Trew, Drew Williams, Michael Hernandez, Jack Crager and Tod Nix.

By 10:15 p.m. all the youngsters were together, roasting toes by a large bonfire, and eating some well deserved food.

And what of the six scouts? They were wet, tired, but could honestly say they were Boy Scouts in the first order.

Lynette Slack, Cage Star, Out For Season

Lynette Slack, the Canyon girl Eagles top scorer this year, under went knee surgery Saturday for two torn ligaments after she was injured Friday.

Miss Slack, a senior, will be lost to the Eagles for the remainder of the season.

An all-state forward performer last year, she was averaging 20.8 points per game through the Eagles first 12 ball games this year.

Head girl Eagle coach Bob Schneider said, "It hurts to lose Lynette, but I think we will be okay. The girls played real well the next night after she was hurt. It will take us a little time to get our timing back with a new girl in there.

Miss Slack was injured in the Eagles semi-final game with Slaton in the Tulia tournament. The girls went on to win that game 67-50. She was still the high pointer for the Eagles with 26 points.

The next day the girl Eagles beat Friona 53-43 to win the tournament. Kris Tucker scored 22 points and Marilyn Read topped the Canyon scoring column with 25, to make up for the absence of Miss Slack.

Commission Meets Tonight

Bids for a sewer line to Hunsley Hills Addition will be opened tonight by city commissioners at the regular meeting at 7 o'clock in the community center.

The line will service a proposed apartment-motel project planned on the corner of 15th Street and U. S. 60.

A request from West Texas State University financial vice president Virgil Henson to close street easement adjacent to the university will also be discussed.

The street easements include several on the east side of the campus near the new high-rise dormitories.

A request for the city to participate in preliminary evaluation in regional waste management facilities will be made. Water, Incorporated is seeking financial support from the city in the amount of $500 for the private and public

(see CITY, page 8)

On-Campus Grad Interviews Down

The number of on-campus interviews for students of West Texas State University seeking career employment are down 15-20 per cent this year, according to Jack Edmondson, head of the placement office.

Edmondson said some of the major companies have curtailed their recruitment programs because they don't have to recruit.

He said one company who has come to the campus every spring and fall for years to interview students didn't come this fall.

The company spokesman said they hoped the economic situation would improve by spring, Edmondson said, but that at this time the interviews would be a waste of time for them and misleading for the students.

Edmondson explained he thought the situation would improve but that at the present time job-hunting is very discouraging.

"The students are having to take the initiative where it used to be that three or four people would come to the student. Now they have to knock on doors," he noted.

The requirements for jobs are becoming more strict expecially in teaching, Edmondson said, but also in business and industry.

"Our decrease has not been as great as in other parts of the country but the trend is certainly reflected here," Edmondson remarked.

The student is certainly experiencing more difficulty than they did three or even two years ago, he said, even though there is less of a decrease in the job market here than in other parts of the county.

Of the students who graduate at WTSU, at least 50 per cent would like to stay

COVERING FUMBLES

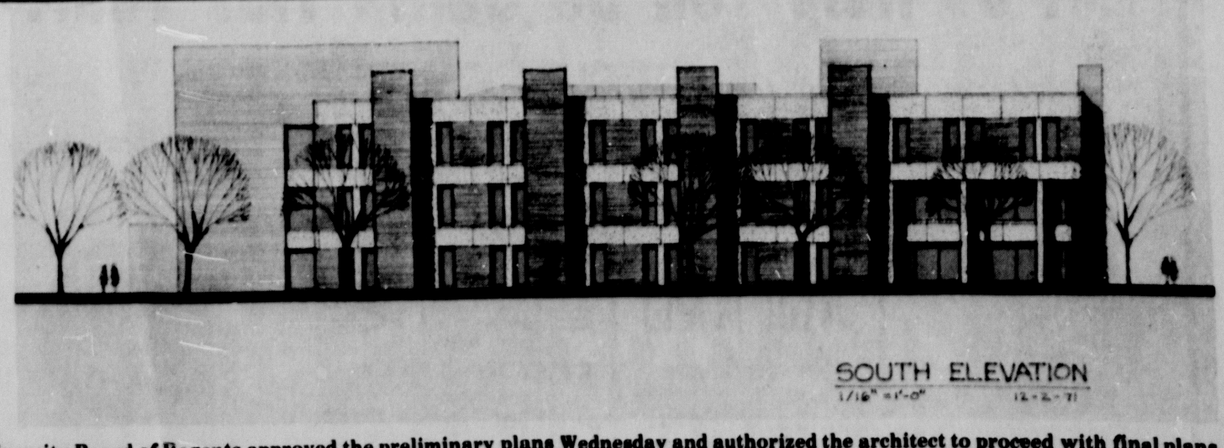
Most television is so bad that even the commercials are a relief.



This is a preliminary architectural sketch of the proposed $3 million science building at West Texas State University. The university Board of Regents approved the preliminary plans Wednesday and authorized the architect to proceed with final plans.

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

Monday was my silver anniversary in the newspaper business.

I walked into J. C. Phillips' office in Borger Dec. 13, 1946 and hit J. C. up for a job. I think 25 years gives me license to reminisce the experiences of a misspent life.

Folks say to me: "It must be fun to be in the newspaper business — you meet such interesting people."

That's true and most of the interesting people I've met have been in the newspaper business. I'd like to tell you about a few of them.

Fred Lawrence was a photographer on the Borger Herald. He once comandeered a car to chase a tornado for a picture. When the driver — a total stranger — found out where they were going he was paralyzed with fright and set the brakes refusing to go another step.

Jim Howe was the brother of Gene Howe. Jim covered World War I and in 1952 was still wearing the same hat he wore in the trenches in France.

Jim retired from the wire service and became a wine taster at $50 a day. "I don't have to go to work when I don't want to," he explained. "I just call up and say I've got a cold and can't taste a thing."

Jim also collected Chinese pigeon whistles. He kept pigeons on his 5-acre "ranch" in California and equipped them with the whistles.

When the birds swept in over the barn the whistles played a tune.

There were never two people more different than Jim and his brother Gene, whom I always considered the great man of journalism.

Gene was an introvert, almost to the point of being dour, while Jim was an extrovert who talked a mile a minute to anyone who would listen.

They were both sons of Ed Howe of The Atchison Globe, the famous Sage of Potato Hill.

No story of Panhandle journalism would be complete without mention of Putt Powell, Boswell of the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm.

Putt can remember which Sandy made the winning touchdown on what play in a given Sandy game as far back as 1936.

Putt is a great story teller.

He went to Dumas with me last year to cover the Eagle-Demon football game. He kept myself and Col. John Childs along with our two sons laughing all the way there and back.

Putt told us about some experiences with folks calling in stories on sports events.

The funniest was about two basketball games. Some fellow called in a story from a small Panhandle town about a girls' basketball game.

"Was it a conference game?" Putt asked as the caller finished.

Thereupon the correspondent became angry at such apparent stupidity from a Globe-News sportswriter.

"Hell no! It was a basketball game," the caller retorted.

On another occasion Putt asked the correspondent if the high scoring forward had shot mostly from outside.

"No, he was right there in the gym with the rest of them," was the reply from the other end of the line.

There has always been a lot of rivalry between Pampa and Amarillo. It waxed hottest while Harry Hoare was sports editor at Pampa.

He accused the Sandies of recruiting from all over to produce their great football teams.

One yule season four members of the AHS football team visited relatives in Florida.

"Four Sandies Go Home For Christmas," was the spiteful banner headline across Harry's sports page next day.

I think the finest writer I came to know in the 25 years has to be Al Dewlen of Amarillo. Dewlen wrote "Night of the Tiger" and "Twilight of Honor."

"Twilight of Honor" happened to be based on a police case I helped to cover for The Globe some 20 years ago.

I think Dewlen was at his best in a piece he wrote for Reader's Digest about his son who was killed in Vietnam.

The greatest investigative reporter I have ever met is Bill Cox. Bill was doing police beat for The Amarillo Times while I was covering same beat for The Globe.

He was a tough cookie. Bill and I were friends then and have been through the years but oh how we tried to scoop each other.

Bill currently is living in Amarillo and is writing detective stories.

I hope to get him to do some special reporting for The Canyon News some time in the future.

* * *

I'll end this sentimental bit by saying I'm grateful for being cast in the role of day to day Panhandle historian over the past two and a half decades.

Thanks J. C. for putting me on the payroll.

Jim Warren, left, was promoted to sergeant in the Canyon Police Department Mondayy, according to Chief Al Stewart, right. Warren, who has been on the force for 18 months, has 63 hours at West Texas State University. He is a native of Muleshoe and has recorded 431 clock hours in police training. He and his wife Dayna have no children.

Commissioners Okay Health Unit Budget

Randall County Commissioners approved Monday $11,603 for Randall County's share of operating the Bi-City Bi-County Health Unit.

Randall County's share of the health unit budget increased by $1,208 from last year. The increase resulted from an increase in rural population in Randall County over last year.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher who discussed the budget with health unit personnel said that the total budget for the health unit this year was $2,000 higher than last year. The budget for the year is $416,000.

The court protested a bill for $3,300 from Transwestern Pipeline Company for casing a natural gas line on Osage Road.

Gene Doggitt and Kenneth R. Giggy from the Transwestern met with the court.

Included in the bill was $1,356 for materials, $974 for transportation costs and $521 for labor.

The court objected to the transportation cost of a heavy truck and trailer which was used to transport the pipe from Flagstaff, Arizona.

The charge for the pipe from Transwestern was $10 a foot. John Fulgenzi called Amarilio Iron and received a quote of about $30 a foot for the pipe.

The commissioners suggested that the company representatives review the bill and resubmit it at the next meeting.

The commissioners tabled a discussion of a request for funds by a Steering Committee on Regional Waste Management appointed at the annual meeting of Water, Inc.

The committee requested that Randall County contribute $500 which is one and one half per cent of the total budget of $25,000 for a preliminary evaluation of waste problems.

Sherman Appointed

State Senator Max Sherman of Amarillo has been appointed to the Interim Committee on State Parks, Recreational Areas and Historic Sites.

The committee, consisting of five members of the Texas Senate, will study the problems of locating more land for parks and recreational purposes, and the better utilization of existing parks to accommodate more visitors and preserve a healthy environment.

Trio Convicted Of Burglary

Roy Joe Stevens, II, 20, his wife, Debbie Stevens, 19, and Keith Loden Stevens, 21, all of Canyon, plead guilty Tuesday to burglary of a private residence at night and all received eight years probation.

They were sentenced in 181st district court by Judge Don Dean.

The three were charged with the Nov. 27 burglary of the Johnnie Boone home on Hix Drive. Approximately $10,000 worth of property was taken from the Boone residence.

All three were indicted Tuesday morning by the Randall County grand jury.

Roy Joe Stevens and Keith Stevens testified that they entered the house and removed the property. Debbie Stevens testified that she drove the car for the two.

The property from the Boone house was found in a residence on Hix Drive rented by Roy Joe Stevens, II, and on a farm leased by Piner Stevens, according to L.S. (Slim) Johnston.

The Boone family was out of town at the time of the burglary.

Boss Case Dismissed

The case against Gerald Boss of 2411 S. Aldridge in Amarillo, who was involved in an accident with former Police Chief and Mrs. Calvin Costley Oct. 5, was dismissed Friday.

Boss was issued a citation for failure to grant right of way at a stop sign following the accident. The case was dismissed due to insufficient evidence, according to the clerk at Amarillo Municipal Court.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

If a man turns on his favorite reading lamp and it doesn't light up, does he sit in darkness and curse the power plant? Not if he is rational.

First he checks another lamp. If it burns, he checks the light bulb. If there is nothing wrong with the bulb or the source of power, he knows the trouble has to be in the connection between them.

Because they are getting no light from the Power of the Universe, atheists declare there is no God. Apostates lament He is dead. And rebellious Christians insist Christ has failed them.

Jesus commanded His followers to let their lights shine so that men could find their way to God (Matt. 5:16).

If no lights were burning, what evidence would there be the Power was available?

When Jesus disappeared from the tomb, unbelieving Jews insisted his disciples had stolen his body away, and circulated the false report their master arose from the dead.

Does it seem logical that the 11 disciples — all Jews — would be willing to devote their lives to a "Messiah" they knew to be a fraud?

It is conceivable that one might serve for a price, or die for a false cause he sincerely believed in, but those men served without pay; ten of them died martyrs for their commitment, and one was banished to a penal island.

Would any rational person sacrifice his life for a cause he knew was false?

It has been almost 2000 years since those first Christians were martyred for their faith. Yet in every generation from that day to this, followers of Jesus have lived for Him and died if need be.

Lights continue to shine as evidence the Power still functions.

How do they shine?

First, he who shines for God must ask for His salvation. Then the Christian should make sure he maintains communication with the Power. What kind of wire is required to transmit that energy?

Without prayer and Bible study, the Christian will have no light to shine. Then he needs the strength that comes from Christian fellowship and public worship.

Jesus said to His followers, "Ye shall be witnesses unto me" (Acts 1:8). The constant concern of the sincere Christian is how to be the most effective witness.

A witness is one who tells what he knows, has seen, or experienced. But if the witness is of poor character, his testimony is discredited.

So first of all the effective witness must be Christ-like; honest, sober, and willing to work.

Jesus kept all the laws of God. He was kind to everyone He met. There is no record of His doing for any man what he could do for himself. But He extended help to the helpless, and hope to the hopeless. And He said, "Go and do thou likewise" (Luke 10:37).

A good witness must have had some experiences with Christ to share. The Christian who does not have a constant, personal, vital relationship with God has very little light to shine.

It would be easy to walk with God if there were no opposition. But has there ever been such a time?

Paul warned the unhappy slaves in the Church at Ephesus that they were not wrestling "against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places" (Eph. 6:12).

Could that statement have fitted the 1st century any better than it does the 20th? What can one do against such odds?

The Supreme Court has ruled God out of the school room. Parents have left Him out of the majority of American homes. Unholy leadership has shoved Him out of many churches.

But as long as one single light shines, men can know the Power is still available.

Gene Howe News

BY PAULINE HEFLEY

Sure was nice to visit up at Gene Howe last evening for the sixth grade program and P.T.A. meeting. And, it was nice to be there as a spectator rather than a participant for a change, although I have to admit there was certainly a feeling of nostalgia regarding all those fun times that I was at the helm of the P.T.A. But, what a nice successor my darling friend Troyce Mulherin, is. Hope you caught the annual Sixth grade program — sure was good and represents lots of hours of work by the students, faculty, and mommies.

Happy Birthday to Kim Forehand.

Understand Mrs. Bill (Barbara) Rudd had a bridal shower for for Carolyn Dyson recently and many of the local ladies attended.

Happy Anniversary to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson.

Ray and Lyda Freeman journeyed over to Lake Murray in Ardmore, Oklahoma and report a good time. Actually Ray was attending a Chevrolet meeting in Oklahoma City, he works for Plains Chevrolet you know. Lyda says he attended a meeting, and she just played around. I'm always impressed with people who attend conventions and attend all the meetings!!!

Saw Pete Solbrig and he said he didn't know anything new — just been working hard all the time and shoveling some snow.

Happy Birthday to James White.

Many in the Canyon area will be attending a District T.S.T.A. Banquet in Amarillo by time you get this. The purpose is to dine with the legislators and the king of the hill will be there, one Governor Preston Smith. You know our fearless leader, Luther B. Lawless, is President of the Randall County Unit, and needless to say he will be there, along with Mrs. A.B. Holt, Mrs. Lee Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Wheelock, Mrs. Alma Perkins, Dr. and Mrs. E.B. Posey.

Well, that Joe and Marie Glovier really had a nice trip recently — they motored down to Matzalan, Old Mexico, for the dedication of the new Church of Christ Building there. It is under the sponsorship of the Southwest Amarillo Church of Christ. Another milestone for the Lord.

J.L. and Kay Riley are toodling down to Lubbock this weekend to pick up Wanda and Jerry Beck and they are all heading for the Sun Bowl in El Paso — sounds like a good time to me. Y'all remember the Becks used to the Gene Howe patrons and we'll send a Howdy to them via the Rileys.

A get well wish to that sassy Darwin Reagen — now Darwin you hurry and get well and back doing your thing.

Happy Anniversary to Judge and Mrs. Woody Pond.

Saw Margie Phillips and she doesn't have any news.

The Bill Harps are sure looking forward to a holiday visit from their son, Duane, who will be home from Texas A&M. Although Ernestine says they probably won't get to see him much.

Happy Birthday to Dick Richie.

Welcome to the Gene Howe area to Mr. and Mrs. Horace Evans who have a son, Gary, at Gene Howe.

Happy Birthday to Allen Freeman.

Glynn Schmidt reports the fourth, fifth, and sixth grade basketball teams (girls) did real well this season. Finishing with a Championship was the Sixth grade team coached by Mrs. Elizabeth Meers and this team will go into the Tournament playoff starting Thursday. As a matter of a fact, we wish them the best of luck. And, thanks to those ladies who gave of their time and talent to "get the ball rolling" (a little play on words).. Jean Richie, Arlene Todd, Elizabeth Meers and Glynn Schmidt. Understand the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth grade boys will start their basketball season during the holidays and we hope they fare as well as our darling girls.

Have y'all seen those keen little coffee mugs that the Canyon Band is selling to fund their trip to Austria. Better buy some for the family, only $1.00 apiece or six for $5.00. So, pick up the tele and call your local band member and tell them to bring some by. Or, just call that Mrs. Roy (Sherri) Cates and she can help you too. Y'all phone me your news. 376-9853 or 352-2089.

DON'T TAKE YOUR EYES FOR GRANTED

There is much more to good vision than people realize. Better vision can mean greater ability in every aspect of life. Although under normal circumstances your eyes will serve you as long as you live, it is important that you protect them with proper care.

Periodic check-ups are a necessity whether you wear classes or not. Avoid strain by having the proper glasses (if you need them). Use proper lighting when reading, working or watching TV. Protect your eyes against glare. Rest them when they are tired. Sometimes a soothing eyewash or eye-drops can be helpful. We carry many of them in our pharmacy.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Library Opens Doors

BY MARGO WILLIAMS

It's like a stroll into history, smelling of old books, warm days, and even quietness.

The walk begins at the front door of the Canyon Public Library and it doesn't end until you leave the old barrack building and its packed shelves.

The Canyon library, open for more than 35 years, houses an estimated 15,000 volumes — not counting thousand of magazines — ranging in content for youngsters of pre-school age to adult best-sellers.

Mrs. Mary Huntington has had the library under her wings since September of this year, when Mrs. Chester A. Pierle resigned. Mrs. Pierle had mothered the local library for some 35 years, and was influential in obtaining what are considered today as "rare" volumes.

"We have several books obtained many years ago for very reasonable prices that are considered rare now," Mrs. Huntington. These rare books are kept in the library and used for reference, rather than being checked out.

What exactly does the library offer to Canyon residents? That question is being studied thoroughly by the newly-formed library board in an effort to determine just what the library does offer, what it should and can offer and what the people of the city and county would like for a library.

A budget of around $2,000 yearly is spent just on books, this includes books borrowed from other libraries in the area or from the state, and books donated to the library by interested persons.

Board members are concerned with the drop in the number of people who use the library. "We feel many new people to Canyon don't know we have a library," one board member offered.

Thumbing through the magazine section will take the observor back to the early 1930's, when depression news, dress styles, and the American way of life were depicted in pictures and lengthy columns.

Aside from the stacks of magazines, the library has divided its shelves into juvenile category, grades 1-3 Texas section, young adults, adults and fiction and nonfiction in all categories.

Mrs. Huntington classifies the books into three sections: the entertainment section, the "how to" books and reference books.

One of her prides is a special section on music developed especially for children in grade schools.

"The children are required to write themes in music, and we did not have many books for them to use for reference," she explained. So during the past few years a concentrated effort has been made to improve and add to the collection.

But a trip to the Canyon library is more than a walk into history — it is a walk into creative reading — in your own hometown.

White Team Tops Purple In Cage Clash

The Canyon Junior High eighth grade Purple and White teams held an intramural game Monday and the White came out on top 29-24.

The Purple teamers lead the game through the first three quarters. They held a 20-14 edge at the end of the third period, but the White cagers outscored the Purple 15 points to four in the final stanza.

Allen Shankles and Don Thompson topped the scoring charts for the White team with eight apiece. Mark Nelson scored seven, Tom Dawdy scored three, Lyndon Brazile had two and Ron Mills had one for the White Team.

Donnie Bell was the high point producer for the Purple team and for the night with nine.

Bryan Dodson and Hoss Ratliff had seven points and four points respectively, while Larry Hunter and Ken Basinger scored two apiece.

Talent Show Planned February 19

Students will audition for a "Do Your Own Thing" Talent Show during January. The show itself has been set for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 19 in the Canyon High School Auditorium, according to Mrs. Olan Lehman of the Heritage Woman's Club, the sponsoring group.

Auditions will be held at 9 a.m. on successive Saturdays in the All-Purpose Room at Rex Reeves School. For grades 1 through 4, auditions will take place Jan. 8. Jan. 15 is the day for grades 5 through 8 to be heard and Jan. 22, for grades 9 through 12.

Entry fees will be charges to competitors selected for the February performance. Soloists will pay $2, duets, $3, groups from three to five people will pay $4, and those from five to ten will pay $5.

Acts should not exceed five minutes and performers will need to provide accompanists. The club would prefer that the same number be used for the audition and the February show.

Mrs. Lehman can provide further information to those who call 655-3903.

Girls Junior Varsity Wins Hartley Tourney

The Canyon girl Eagle junior varsity won the Hartley Tournament last weekend and they were the only junior varsity team in the tourney.

They whipped the Felt, Okla. varsity 60-24 in the first game. Alisha Nelson was the high pointer in the game with 28. She was followed by Carla Swatzell with 16.

In the second tilt they almost tripled the scoring output of their opponents as they beat Keyes, Okla., 71-24. Miss Nelson and Miss Swatzell scored 23 points apiece, while Mindy Sternenberg canned 12 points and Lynn David added 11 tallies.

The Canyon girls met Amistad, N.M. in the finals and topped them 51-28. Miss Nelson scored 25; Miss Swatzell and Miss Sternenberg scored nine apiece.

Four Canyon girls copped positions on the all tourney team. They were: Miss Nelson, who scored 76 points in the three games; Miss Sternenberg, Debbi Abbott and Cindy Bullock.

"Our strongest point is that we can replace anybody on the court and not be hurt," said Coach Diana Lewis, "Especially on defense."

The junior varsity has dropped only one game in 12 outings. "The girls have worked very hard and we have very strong bench strength, particularly in Lynn Davis. A good thing about our offense is that any one of our three girls can shoot and score," said Miss Lewis.

Moore Appointed To BU Council

Dr. Dudley Moore was named to the Council of Institutional Development to Baylor University during ceremonies in Canyon Tuesday afternoon.

A graduate of Baylor, Moore was acclaimed for his continued interest in the university.

The 135 member council will meet twice each year to "build and develop the image of Baylor University."

"We are proud to pick a man with such esteem as Dr. Moore for this honor," said Morris Cobb, member of the board of trustees of Baylor.

The council consists of businessmen and women who have demonstrated direct interest in Baylor, and the members will work toward recruitment, endowment and administration.

"They will serve as a liason between the campus and the area they represent," Cobb explained.

Moore, a practising physician in Canyon, serves as Canyon Independent School Board President.

Also on hand for the presentation were Mrs. Moore, Bill C. Moore, district director of the Ex-Student Association, and Ed Phelphs, Sr., assistant to the vice president of development.

Statsers Tell Birth Of Son

Mrs. and Mrs. John Statser, 106 21st St., have announced the birth of Rushe Albert on Dec. 1 in Neblett Memorial Hospital.

He weighed 8 pounds 12 ounces.

Statser is a biology major at West Texas State University.

Mrs. and Mrs. L.J. Statser of Amarillo are the paternal grandparents. The maternal grandparents are CWO and Mrs. T. J. Wildman Jr. of Yokota Air Base, Tokyo.

Junior High Girls Capture Two Victories

The Canyon girls eighth and ninth grade teams whipped the Alamo Catholic teams, while the seventh grade Purple team lost to the Alamo seventh graders.

The seventh grade Purple lost by a single point 12-13. Sue Carlton was the high point girl for Canyon with four.

The eighth grade Purple demolished the Alamo eighth graders 52-29. Vickie Gerber canned 22 points for Canyon and was the high pointer of the tilt.

The freshman Purple team crushed the Alamo girls 49-11. Cheryl Adams scored well over half of Canyon's points with 35.

Thomas Calls Teaching "Dangerous Profession"

Calling teaching "the most dangerous profession," Wayne E. Thomas of Hereford, chairman of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, says today's mobile, high speed society has given its schools primary responsibility for "determining the quality, perhaps the preservation of society."

Thomas spoke in Amarillo Tuesday to a dinner meeting of District 16, Texas State Teachers Association. Gov. Preston Smith, Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo, and several area members of the House of Representatives attended the meeting at which they were honored.

In a realignment of the traditional responsibilities of the home, the school, and the church, the school has inherited new duties, according to Thomas.

Changing work patterns and family relationships have limited the home's ability to furnish young people with a sense of their relationship to society. "Families may play together, but today's society provides little opportunity for families to work together," explained Thomas. "Children cannot share in their parents' work and can seldom participate with them in community activities — the babysitter has replaced the pallet, and while it may have added to comfort, it has reduced involvement."

Thomas said the most difficult job of the schools was to furnish students with a sense of stability and a sense of continuity at the same time they prepared them for a life of change.

He asked teachers to help students distinguish between goals and objectives and forms and methods previous generations had found appropriate to reach those goals. "While past mistakes do not negate goals, neither does tradition mean turning out more and more 1890 models. Tradition is needed for continuity, but tradition also means constantly revising, modifying, and improving so that our institutions and our educational programs are appropriate to needs of each decade."

"We look to the schools to prepare our young people to solve the problems of social conflict, of civil rights, of the crisis of the cities, of the preservation of our environment."

Changes which have occurred in the last single lifetime are staggering. The Board chairman pointed out that the economic base had shifted not once but twice — from an agricultural, to an industrial, and then to a "supra-industrial" economy which employs more people in service trades than the production of goods.

He also cited the shift in the center of gravity in the country's population. In 1960 that center was the 35 to 40-year-old group, but within five years, the center had shifted all the way down to age 17. High speed transportation, instantaneous communications, a knowledge explosion, and affluence have revamped the pattern of life in America.

"There is an excitement which accompanies this much change, but disorientation, unease and fear also accompany such a rapid rate of change."

He said the inability of parents today to maintian the family unit had intensified their children's questioning the validity of the institutions of marriage, and home. "Parents are looking more and more to the schools to help supply the answers to these questions."

"We can no longer leave to chance the education of our young people in those areas which are essential to their mental health, to their productivity, to their sense of worth — and we have available more knowledge than we are giving our young people."

He said young people are asking for help in learning how to relate to other people and "how to live with dignity."

Cemetery Board Kicks Off Drive

A drive to raise $15,000 was kicked off Monday by the Dreamland Cemetery Board of Directors.

Money will be used to pave all the streets in the cemetery, located south of the city, and to make other improvements to land purchased several years ago.

A committee consisting of Glenn Dowlen, Roy Whittenburg and president Mitch Jones recommended the campaign.

"We will not begin any work until we have collected at least half of the money, said director Jerry LaGrone.

LaGrone pointed out the cemetery is a community owned and operated and is a non-profit association. "All donations are tax deductible," he said.

Improvements that have been made through donations to the cemetery include the irrigation system, chimes and the chime house, memorials and a tool shop.

"The donations can be handled on a pledge basis over a three-year period," LaGrone explained.

Cemetery office is located at LaGrone Funeral Home in Canyon.

Cemetery Association officers in addition to Jones are Gene McGlasson, secretary, and vice presidents Mrs. Hosea Foster and Clarence Eugene Thompson.

"Anyone wishing to donate to the drive can call the office or any officer," LaGrone urged.

Merle Strickland, jailer and polygraph examiner for the Randall County Sheriff's office, was honored with a birthday party last week. The party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Shell in the Shell's Pharmacy. Deputy Harold Hooks, left, and Sheriff L.S. (Slim) Johnston, along with other members of the sheriff's office helped Strickland celebrate his birthday.

Grand Jury Indicts Eight

Edward Leroy Jacobs, son of Jerry Jacobs of Canyon, was indicted Tuesday by the Randall County Grand Jury on charges of possessing a pipe used in smoking marijuana and possession of a hallucinogenic drug.

Eight other indictments were returned by the grand jury Tuesday.

Jacobs, 17, a student at Alamo Catholic High School in Amarillo, was released on his own recognizance. He is scheduled to be arraigned today.

Jacobs was arrested on Dec. 9 by Highway Patrol officers about a mile north of Canyon. He was released on $2,000 bond Friday.

Also indicted was Herman C. Forgason, 31, of Lubbock, on charges of robbery with firearms. Forgason was charged with the Nov. 15 robbery of Kiddie City in Amarillo.

Larry John Marshall, 21, of 2614 Keith in Amarillo was indicted on charges of theft over $50 in connection with the theft of two wedding rings from the residence of his sister-in-law.

Others indicted were John Lewis Perry, 19, of 1303 N. Adams on burglary by breaking, and Roy Joe Stevens, II, Debbie Stevens, and Keith Loden Stevens all of Canyon, for burglary of a private residence at night. Robert L. Hagan, 56, of 1223 E. Broadway in Lubbock, was indicted on driving while intoxicated, 2nd offense.

Members of the grand jury on returning the indictments indicated that they planned to write letters to the Amarillo City Commission opposing rock festivals being held in Amarillo.

A spokesman for the grand jury said that almost all of the cases involving drugs considered by the grand jury this term also involved the festivals.

"All the kids we have talked to got marijuana at the rock festival," the spokesman said.

Two weeks time is required following dipping before the cattle can be shipped and about a month before they can be slaughtered.

Dr. Pitcher said 15 inspectors were on duty at the present time and that the commission had been authorized to hire 28 local people to be trained as temporary inspectors.

The inspectors are to be interviewed at the Texas Animal Health Commission office in Amarillo Monday, he said.

Experienced inspectors from other states are also to be brought in to assist around the first of the year, he said.

Edmondson commented the screening of students by prospective employers is more detailed and that 90 to 95 per cent of the employers want to see a confidential file on the student.

Mrs. Maureen Holmes, in charge of part-time student job placement, said that her office has very capable people willing to work at odd hours.

"They are willing to do anything," she said, "but we just can't place them.'

She said that her office had six or seven job openings at the present time and most of them were for salesmen on commission only.

She said that she couldn't say whether the problems of placing students was due to fewer jobs available or more students wanting work.

"The students are so anxious for anything," she said, and they will just try anything."

Buff Cagers To Face NMS

West Texas State University's basketball field house looked like a hospital ward early this week.

The Buffalo cagers of coach Dennis Walling returned home Sunday afternoon from a road trip on which they fell in all three outings and suffered three more injuries to key players.

Ralph Houston, the team captain and a solid scorer-rebounder, made the trip, but was unavailable for duty. The 6-6, 210-pound junior broke his foot one month prior to the season opener. The cast was removed Friday prior to the Monday trip.

Ray Golson, who had 53 points in the opening two games, was injured Tuesday night against Weber State, before he had a chance to even shoot the ball one time. He returned briefly in the second half, but got only shot off and realized his knee was seriously injured. He missed the remaining two games on the road trip.

At the end of the 64-70 loss to Weber State, 6-6 forward Jerry Christian suffered a turned ankle and a slight knee sprain. He saw limited duty in both the 100-82 loss to Utah State on Thursday and Saturday's 69-64 loss to Long Island University.

In the Saturday game, 6-3 guard Glen Fletcher turned his ankle and missed the second half of play.

As for Friday night's game in Portales, N.M., against Eastern New Mexico University, the status of the four injured players remains in question.

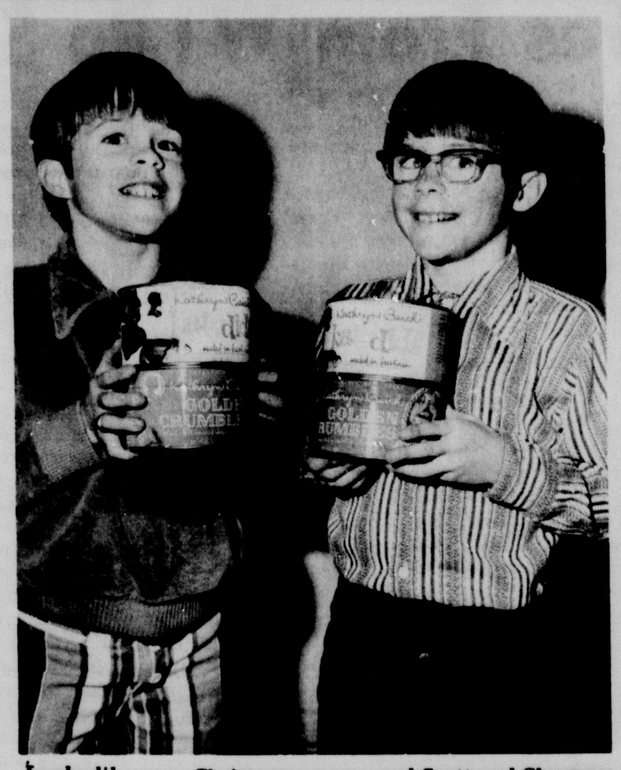
Coach Walling will observe the progress of the injuries in drills this week. There is a chance, however, that Houston, Golson and Fletcher could all miss Friday's game. Christian should be ready to see full time duty again.

The Buffaloes now have a 2-3 season mark. They will take a break after the ENMU game, returning to Amarillo's Civic Center Coliseum Jan. 3 for an exhibition game against the Athletes in Action.

ENMU has a 2-1 mark, beating Fort Lewis State, 101-78, and Lubbock Christian College, 76-59. Southern Colorado handed the Greyhounds their only loss, 74-64.

Probable starters for the Greyhounds will be 7-0 junior Lon Sprayberry at center, 6-4 Curtis Washington and 6-4 Richard Kemp at forwards and 6-0 Wilbur Hardwell and 6-2 Jerome Holly at guards. Kemp leads the team in scoring with an 18.3 average and is pulling 7 rebounds per game.

Sprayberry is scoring 7.0 points per game. Holly has a 9.6 mark, Hardwell is scoring 4.3 a game and Washington supports an 11-point per game average.



Look alikes earn Christmas money, and Scott and Shannon Brown, twin sons of Mrs. Brown are hard after it. The 10-year-old boys are busy selling cans of candy to earn spending money for the holidays. Both are fourth graders at Rex Reeves Elementary, and both will benefit from the sales effort. It's going to be a good Christmas at the Brown home if the boys are successful.

Eagles Outlook: Bright Despite Dismal Record

The Canyon Eagle cagers have dropped three of their last four games, but head Coach B.B. Kendrick is not discouraged for he feels his team is "coming around."

The cagers played in the Andrews tournament last weekend. They lost their first two matches; to Odessa Ector, one of the top ranked AAA teams in the state, 88-73 and to Ft. Stockton, 70-63. They did however, whip Sweetwater 88-66.

Monday night they fell 94-83 to Clovis, after an overtime. Regular play ended with the score knotted at 80.

"The game against Clovis was one of the best we have played this year," said Kendrick. We had three people foul out in that game. I hope that is the reason that they outscored us 14 points to three in the overtime. We were ahead four points with 40 seconds left in the game and he had two turnovers, which killed us.

"We are still laboring a little bit...we are not sure of ourselves yet and having to worry about things other than winning the game, but I think we are coming around."

The Eagles have played 13 games this year and have won but three, but they have also had only four workouts the whole season. "I am very happy that we went to bi-district in football, but it meant that we finished football on a Saturday and starting playing basketball games on Monday without even one workout," Kendrick said.

The Eagles have four non-conference games and one tournament before district play begins with Tulia, Jan. 7. By the time district play begins the Eagles will have had 11 total workouts. Kendrick said that he hoped that a combination of those workouts and the pressure during the games will help the Eagles to be in top form when the Tulia game rolls around.

In the Clovis game Jon Green, who has lead the team in scoring almost every game, had 29 points and Mike Podzemny had 20. James Johnson also entered the double figure columns with 12. Podzemny, Gary Gerber and Fred Grona all fouled out in that game.

The Eagles lead the game through the first three quarters and at one time in the third period lead by nine points.

"Our record is the worst it has ever been but we are coming around," Kendrick concluded with a note of optimism.

Mentor Pleased

Girl Cagers Win Tourney

The Canyon girl Eagles marched through Tulia tournament last weekend adding three more wins to their record and capturing the Tulia title.

The Eagles met fellow 1-AAA competitor Muleshoe in the opening game and waltzed by them 62-28, a 37 point margin. They hit on 40 per cent of their shots from the field and 67 per cent from the free throw line.

Lynette Slack racked up almost half of the Eagles points scoring 31. Marilyn Read fell one short of breaking into the double column figures with nine, Kris Tucker scored eight as did Ginger Curry, while Kim Killingsworth scored two and Kenda Hood tallied seven.

"We had 14 turnovers in that game, which is about five too many," Eagle mentor Bob Schneider said. "We tell the girls that if we have less than 10 a game, we probably will do alright."

Defensively Joy Williams was the standout, as she has been all year. She graded 15 (eight is considered good); Julie Coffman graded seven and Debbi Rossi scored a six.

Their second game of the tourney proved to be closer than the first as they topped Slaton 67-50.

"We shot 52 per cent from the field, which I feel is real good," commented Schneider. They shot 57 per cent from the charity line, which Schneider does not consider good.

Miss Slack produced 26 points, which was Canyon's high individual output for the night. Miss Tucker scored 22 and Miss Read had 17 points. Miss Curry added two points to the scoreboard for the Eagles.

Miss Williams raked in eight rebounds and was graded 10 for her efforts. Carla Ratliff was the best rebounder with 10 and graded 11.

Miss Slack was injured in the game and later underwent knee surgery. She will not return to the Eagle lineup this season.

In the finals Canyon eased by Friona 53-43, to capture the tourney crown. The girls hit on 27 per cent of their shots from the floor and 64 per cent from the foul stripe.

Miss Read scored 25 points and Miss Tucker hit 22 points to make up for the absence of the injured Miss Slack.

Though the Eagles won the game and the tourney, Schneider was not particularly happy with the 19 times the girls turned the ball over to the Friona cagers. "Nineteen turnovers, that's just too many," Schneider said seemingly dejected.

Miss Williams regained her spot as the top defensive player with a grade of 16 and eight rebounds. Debbie Rossi hauled in six rebounds and had a grade of 11, while Miss Coffman graded seven.

"We (the team) learned a lot at the tourney," said Schneider. "The pressure was good for us. They came out from under it real well. Before the tourney we did not know how the girls would react under pressure, but they did real well.

"I think that we are ahead of where the team was last year," he added. The 1970-71 girl Eagles were runners-up in the state playoffs.

Leon Horton Indicted By Dallas Jury

A Dallas County grand jury returned four indictments Monday against Leon C. Horton, a Dallas attorney who was convicted Dec. 8 in Canyon of theft by false pretext.

The new indictments in Dallas charge Horton with two counts of passing a forged deed, one count of passing a forged power of attorney and one count of passing a forged assignment.

The indictments were the first returned in Dallas against Horton.

Horton was sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary in the Randall County case. He is under 10 additional indictments in Randall county.

Two trials have been set in Canyon for January. They are scheduled for Jan. 10 and Jan. 24.

Dear Santa Claus,

I've discovered a lot of things at the Furniture Galleries that would make wonderful presents.

I found a game set for only $199 and two perfectly beautiful gold velvet club chairs at $105 each.

Then there's a blue and green quilted sofa for only $239. I saw a darling lighted curio cabinet for $189 and several bookcases at $89 each.

There is a great selection of lamps at various prices and they also have Sealy king-size mattresses that anyone could sure use. They have one on sale at $188.

The kids would enjoy the crazy bean bag chairs they have at the Furniture Galleries.

Any husband would like one of the nice valets at only 14.88.

Aunt Martha would enjoy that beautiful, decorated pine rocker and it's only $89.95.

Cousin Bill would dearly love those big, comfortable recliners. I'll leave that selection up to you but that big, he-man size at $169.95 would be great.

Also, Santa Claus, you might check that nice selection of pictures and mirrors that the Furniture Galleries have. They would make fabulous presents for anyone.

Mrs. Santa Claus

J.B.Roberts Retires From WT In September

In the summer of 1948 Dr. James B. Roberts visited Canyon to recruit a former college classmate for a Dallas psychological firm.

Before the summer was over, the friend, Dr. J.L. Russell, then dean of the Graduate School at West Texas State University, was still here and so was Dr. Roberts as a professor of education.

Thus started a 23-year association between Dr. Roberts and the university, one that has carried him through five job titles to his present position as dean of the Graduate School.

University President James P. Cornette said today that Dr. Roberts will retire as dean next Sept. 1. He will be 65 June 21. A search committee to find a successor was also announced.

"I presently plan to teach a few more years in the education department since retirement is not mandatory yet," he says. Under university policy he cannot hold an administrative job past age 65 but he can continue to teach until 70.

Dr. Roberts was a consulting psychologist with Rohrer, Hibler and Replogle, a Chicago based company, when he made his business-pleasure trip to the Texas Panhandle.

"Dr. Russell pointed out to me the advantages and opportunities in this part of the country and particularly this school and made it sound so good that I began to consider joining the staff here instead of asking him to join us in Dallas," Dr. Roberts says.

Within a year after his arrival on campus Dr. Roberts was head of the Department of Education. In 1953 he became chairman of the Professional and Vocational Division, in 1962 dean of the School of Teacher Education and in 1967 dean of the Graduate School.

It is his present job that Dr. Roberts says has brought him the most satisfaction.

"I feel more closely with students in this office than any other I have held," he says. "And if there is anything in my philosphy that stands out in my own mind at least it is the desire to help students with their problems.

"I think that is what the administrative offices of a college or university are there to do — to help the student."

The graduate program has grown at West Texas State in Dr. Roberts' brief five years. "We think the demand for graduate education on our campus will continue on and on," he says.

Dr. Roberts says educators across the country are concerned over a surplus of persons with post-graduate degrees, especially at the doctoral level.

"I wish we knew just what the future would be along those lines," he says. "I am sure there will be a decrease in the number of people who are seeking these degrees because they do not see the jobs available like they once could.

"The majority of our graduate students are teachers, active teachers in the field, who are seeking the master's degree for salary increments, and we think that demands will continue with us."

Dr. Roberts says there is a new doctoral level degree program — a Doctor of Arts — gaining in popularity although it is not an approved degree in Texas.

"There are many of our older and more reputable institutions offering the Doctor of Arts Degree," he says. "But the opinion of the people in the graduate schools across the country is pretty sharply divided."

"Some are opposed to it and call it a watering down of the Ph.D., or the Doctor of Education, or any of the old, formal research programs."

Dr. Roberts, who has a Doctor of Philosphy Degree from George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn., says the Doctor of Arts is designed to emphasize preparation for teaching, not research and publication like the Ph.D.

"That kind of degree (Doctor of Arts) may have a great field for people in our area," he adds. "If we should ever be considered as an institution that might offer the doctorate, my guess is that would be the degree."

In its graduate as well as undergraduate programs Dr. Roberts feels that West Texas State has "a little more responsibility in its role than other comparable schools in Texas because it covers such a tremendous area."

Dr. Roberts says one of the biggest problems facing graduate schools today "is the old question of whom should we admit. How can we guarantee that a certain student will be a successful graduate student. What tests can we administer and feel that we are right in admitting or not admitting a given student."

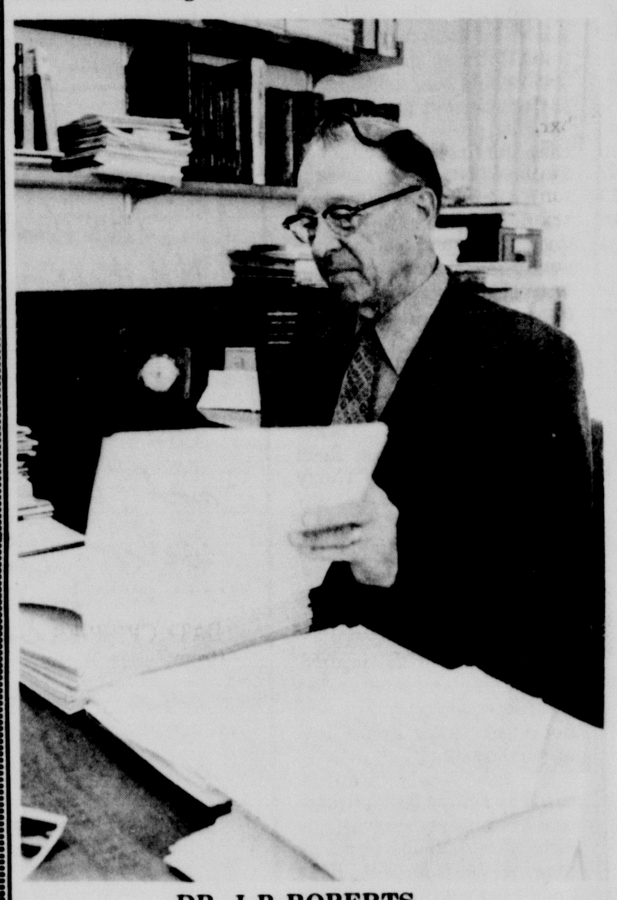
"We know that the Graduate Record Exam does not always give a clear indication of the success or failure that a graduate student may experience as a graduate student, and that's worrying a lot of us."

A native of Sharon, Tenn., Dr. Roberts received bachelor's and master's degrees from North Texas State University and was a public school principal and superintendent at Nocona, for nine years. He later taught at Sul Ross State College in Alpine.

Dr. and Mrs. Roberts have one child, a daughter, Mrs. Walter Curry Jr., of Houston.

Dr. Ray A. Malzahn, academic vice president, says the faculty-administration committee willl "conduct an open search both inside and outside the university for Dr. Roberts' successor."

Committee members are Dr. Theodore D. Freidell, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. John E. Green, dean of the School of Fine Arts, Dr. Eugene F. Buckley Jr., assistant professor of education, Dr. Jerry D. Miller, associate professor of business, and Dr. Malzahn, chairman.



DR. J. B. ROBERTS

Perry, Horne Plead Guilty

Two men, Wesley C. Horne, 39, of 109 N. Florida in Amarillo, and John Lewis Perry, 19, of 1303 N. Adams in Amarillo, pled guilty Tuesday to charges in 181st District Court.

Horne was charged with theft by false pretext and was sentenced to six years in the state penitentiary by Judge Don Dean.

He was charged with passing a worthless check in the amount of $4,079.

Perry was charged with burglary by breaking and sentenced to eight years probation.

Perry was charged with the Nov. 11 burglary of Pants West in Amarillo.

One of the requirements of probation set by Judge Dean was that Perry reenter high school and receive a diploma.

Umbarger News

BY SUSAN DOLLE

Christmas plans are well underway as organizations fullfill this season's tasks. The CYO will be putting up the lighted crib Sunday along Highway 60 for travelers to enjoy. St. Mary's Society always provides trees for the church as well as a general cleaning. The Knights of Columbus have a new job this year; since Santa will not be seen at the Umbarger school, the men's group is planning a get-together for pre-school and first-to-third-grade children Wednesday night, Dec. 22. Jolly Old Saint Nick will have to change buildings — but he will arrive, nevertheless.

Pistols and Petticoats will celebrate its Christmas party Sunday evening in the Parish hall. Gag gifts valued at 50¢ will be exchanged during the evening. Teenagers belonging to the club have volunteered to decorate the hall. Herrick Allen, club caller, will begin the dance at 7:30.

The Umbarger Fire Department provided a family night Monday which was attended by approximately 70 people. Fire safety films were shown and a demonstration by the Panhandle Fire Equipment Co. was provided. Doughnuts, coffee and cokes were served.

Heaters have been lit in the school gym for people interested in playing volleyball. A few people in each age group — men and women, high school boys and girls, have indicated an interest in working out this winter. Ask your neighbor if he wants to play and maybe several teams can be organized.

For the pheasant hunters, the fields have been cold and boggy. They have said the cocks are scarce, but that many hens can be seen. Some were lucky enough to bring home a bird; and all the hunters have slept well at night after trudging through the mud.

I have one Christmas wish. I wish that all those who are ill will be blessed with good health again and be given a richer zest for living.

The Bernard Wilhelm family is planning an early Christmas this Sunday. They will be entertaining Mrs. Ruth Podzemny and family of Amarillo, the Laverne Wilhelms of Nazareth, and Bernard's mother, Mrs. Ozetta Wilhelm of Hereford who happens to be a grandmother among grandmothers.

In another publication, Mrs. Wilhelm contributed this thought:

ARX YOU A KXY PXRSON?

Christmas is in the air at West Texas State University as brightly colored lights outline several buildings on campus. Here the library extends a cheerful welcome to students who face final days of the 1971 fall semester.

Recipes To Help Fill Jar

The Christmas season, school holidays, and all those visitors put a strain on the family cookie jar. For refills, perhaps some of the recipes on this page will be useful.

COCONUT MINCE MEAT MACAROONS

1 (9oz.) pkg. mince meat
½ can Eagle Brand condensed milk
2 2/3 cups flaked coconut
1 tsp. vanilla
¾ tsp. almond extract
1 (4 oz.) jar red glace cherries, finely chopped
1 (4 oz.) jar green glace cherries, cut in half.

In medium-size bowl, break mince meat into small pieces with a fork. Add condensed milk. Mix well. Blend in coconut, extracts, cherries. Shape into one-inch balls. Arrange on buttered baking sheet two inches apart. Top each with red or green cherry half. Bake at 350 degrees 10 to 12 min. or until lightly browned.

DATE CRISPIES
(from Zelma Noel)

1 stick margarine
1 8 oz. pkg. dates, cut up
2 eggs, beaten with 1 cup sugar.

Put all ingredients in melted margarine and cook over low heat 15 minutes (or less) stirring constantly until soft ball is formed in cold water. Take from fire and add 1 tsp. vanilla, ½ cup chopped nuts, and three cups rice crispies. Roll into balls and then in coconut — about 1 can.

FRUIT BARS

1 cup (2 sticks) butter
2 cups sugar
3 eggs
1 teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons water
1 cup seedless raisins
3 cups sifted regular all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
Dash of salt
1 cup chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons sugar

In a mixing bowl cream butter; gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Dissolve baking soda in water; blend into creamed mixture. Add raisins. Sift together flour, cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves and salt; gradually add to creamed mixture. Blend in nuts. Chill several hours. On lightly floured surface form into 6 rolls, 10-inches long and ¾ inch in diameter. Place 2 rolls on each buttered baking sheet. With fingers flatten to ¼ inch thickness, leaving finger impressions as a design. Sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven 15-18 minutes. While hot, make diagonal slices 1 ½ inches apart to form bars. Remove immediately to wire rack to cool. Makes 5-6 dozen.

CHRISTMAS IN THE KITCHEN just has to include the cookie jar.

$3420 Missing After N.Y. Trip

The West Texas State Buffalo cagers not only lost three games on their week-long road trip last week, head mentor Dennis Walling had $3420 stolen from his motel room while in New York City.

Walling said that $2020 of that was his, while $1400 was West Texas State's money.

But, Virgil Henson, WT financial vice president, said that the school would not suffer any loss, seemingly indicating that Walling would be asked to repay the school's money.
